Abstract

Human history is observing a very strange time fighting an invisible enemy, the novel COVID – 19 corona virus. Initially observed in the woman Wuhan of china, now firstly spreading around the world ignoring the opposition’s criticism of the Maharashtra government handing of the COVID – 19 crises the priority of the government is to tackle the pandemic situation and other things are secondary

Keywords: Corona Virus, Pandemic, Maharashtra, Health, COVID – 19

Introduction

The outbreak of the Covid – 19 Pandemic is an unprecedented shock to the Indian economy, Maharashtra Covid – 19 crisis is the result of many factors failure of collective action between, the centre and the state, lack of Mumbai specific approach to fight against the virus, and a blanket implementation of lockdown without a plan to utilize the time effectively and prepare the health system. These are some of the observation of health experts and activist who have closely analyzed the turn of events over the last 100 days, since Maharashtra recorded its first confirmed case of the novel corona virus on March 9, 2020. The state is now a red zone, accounting for nearly 32% of Indian’s case and 41% of the death.

When establish Mahavikas Agahadi government its call coalition government they face so many challenges.

Role of government:

The political science in Maharashtra hated up after a BJP delegation led by formed CM Devendra Fadnavis met to governor and complained to him about the “failure” of the government in tacking the Covid – 19 crises. Maharashtra in the most affected state in the country and has added 2,190 cases to take its tally 56,948 the state has added more than 9000 cases on each of the past days. About 46 present of all its patients have come in these 11 days above.

Another past Mahavikas Aghadi government congress paring who in the state congress President Balasaheb Thorat, who also heads the revenue department, said “BJP” leaders in the state are greedy for power they cannot think of helping the government in the current situation. They are trying to destabilize the government. The congress in one of the constituents in the Shiv Sena led Maharashtra Vikas Aghadi (MVN) government. The other partners in the Sharad Pawar – led nationalist congress party (NCP) can see the role of congress party. No congress leader is seen around chief Minister Uddhav Thakare or NCP chief Sharad Pawar they are in touch with each other over phone nothing should be read into such appearances or disappearances. But in traditionally, congress leader Rahul Gandhi said that the congress does not have a key role to play in the Maharashtra government.

Despite the fact that the congress in part of “Maha Vikas Aghadi” and hold key Minister, but are not in the key decision – making role in Maharashtra. He appears to be distancing his party from the ruling alliance that is being criticized for its handling of the corona virus pandemic in the state. Rahul Gandhi's statement could be a setback for the MVA government in Maharashtra, where hectic politicking is going on.

The nationalist congress party (NCP) the thyroid member of the alliance could be the reason for the decline of the government. Party president were to meet Governor Bhagat Singh Koshiyari at Rajbhavn in what was described by both sides as a “courtesy call” Praful Patel also depended union Railway minister Piyush Goyal from attacks by Shiv Sena and congress leaders who have been scathing about the lack of help from the railways in helping move migrants to their home states while the Shiv Sena, without specifying and party or leaders, had said that the opposition's efforts to destabilize the state government could boomerang, the NCP has discredited the BJP of spreading rumors that president's rule will be imposed. Among various things farmer chief minister Rane has claimed the government headed by chief minister Uddhav Thakare had failed to handle Covid – 19 pandemic crisis in the state.

Role of opposition party:

Now BJP is an only one big opposition party in Maharashtra state. The saffron party has ramped up efforts to pull the Maha Vikas Aghadi government down. Three- party Maha Vikas Aghadi government in Maharashtra government is faced with two big challenges one, the rapidly increasing case of covid – 19 and other, the constant attempts by the BJP state leaders to pull the government down.

Since the coalition government consisting of the Shiv Sena, the nationalist congress party and the congress – came to power six months ago, the BJP has tried every trick in the book to bring it down. In all these attempts have intensified from unleashing its both army on social media to cities the state government, to demanding president's rule, the BJP has tried it all. BJP Rajyasabha member Narayan Rane who has in the past ban in the Shiv Sena and the congress met Maharashtra governor and demanded the imposition of president rule in view of the Shiv Sena led state government is failure in tackling the corona virus pandemic. He claimed the ruling parties had failed in handling administrative affairs in the time of the unprecedented crisis.

NCP chief Sharad Pawar, in an interview to NDTV, called the farmer chief minister and state opposition leader Devendra Fadnis “an important man” Fadnis is getting impatient. But there is no threat to the Maharashtra Pawar said. He called his meeting with the governor a “ Courtesy call” Rumours is political circles, however, are rife that there are internal dissensions within the coalition and both the NCP and the congress are chafing at not having a big say in managing the COVID – 19 crisis all the in not helping the states effects to contain the virus and stop the increase in cases and deaths. The BJP has not offered any suggestions, much less assistance, to all evict that problem of patients or migrants. Fadnavis and BJP are not going to be able to dislodge the government with every one’s mind on the COVID – 19 crises in the state.

Conclusion:

Maharashtra has been badly hit by the pandemic and has the most corona cases in the country. New political align mental possibly even central rule could be on the cards in Maharashtra only time will tell the economy was already in a parlous state before. COVID – 19 struck.
